FRIDAY AUGUST 22, 1913

One of the most ridiculously absurd occurrences in international complications is the ultimatum issued by one Huerta, Provincial president of the one-time Mexican Republic giving the United States until midnight Tuesday night to recognize his government. Huerta did just what he proposed to do in case the United States did not comply with his demands but we all certainly look for some dire calamity to befall us. But seriously, it is the most arrant tommyrot conceivable for Huerta, president of a few greasers, only through a murderous and treacherous means that have nauseated the civilized nations of the earth, to demand from the United States that his government be recognized, that the American Republic place the seal of approval on murder and a whole catalogue of crimes to boot. It may be as Henry Lane Wilson protested it will give Mexico a stable government, but it is the means to attain the end that the United States balks at.
We believe that it is wrong to do evil that good may come of it. We believe that a government founded on iniquity and established with blood must of necessity fall, because although outwardly it may appear well, the inside is filled with corruption and dead men's bones.
We are apposed to Jingoism but it certainly looks now as if your Uncle Samuel will have to intervene in the cause of humanity. Accepting the Monroe doctrine as international law we forbid other nations interfering in American affairs. This throws the responsibility upon the United States as the strongest government in the Western Hemisphere. It is to be hoped that a settlement of affairs in Mexico can be reached amicably, but the bonds of human endurance have been taxed to the utmost.

GOOD ROADS.

There is a good deal of the moral element mixed up with good roads.
It is pretty hard to serve the Lord with gladness when we have to travel over wretched roads to do it.
It puts everybody in a better frame of mind to roll over a smooth, hard road. It means better schools, better churches, better crops, better neighbors, a better civilization. It is said when a cannibal is converted the first thing he calls for is a shirt; and when a community is filled with a really religious spirit it calls for decent roads. We are glad that a public sentiment is growing that promises to compel even the darkest corners to mend their highways. Editor H. B. Varner of Lexington is engaged in a righteous crusade when he speaks for bond issues for the building of good roads. Those who oppose bonds pretend to be greatly concerned about future generations, but their real concern is not about the future but the present. Let the good work go on. Good roads are coming. We have delayed too long to build good highways everywhere.

It is rather late in the season for a Thaw in Canada.

DILLSBORO.

Mr. B. E. Gray has come home to visit friends and family from Zawala, Louisiana where he has been in the lumber business for several years.

Mr. E. L. McKee and Miss Gertrude Dills were married on the 19th last at the home of Mrs. W. A.
Dills, Rev. J. J. Gray officiating.
The good wishes of this whole community go with the happy couple.

Wibb Fisher and Ralph Jarrett left this week to attend school at Mars Hill.

Mrs. R. F. Jarrett made a short visit to her relatives in Macon county last week.

C. J. Harris has gone to Europe for a short time.

A short interruption on the work of the dam last week, but the work seems to be going on again very smoothly.

More summer visitors than ever this year, which shows that we could have them here just the same as other points if we would only try

Mrs. Dr. Abernethy, of Raleigh, a niece of Mrs. Brinson of Cullowhee has returned to her home after spending some time in our midst.
Holmes Bryson and family are visiting in Cashiers Valley for a few days.

Mr. Alphaugh the contractor on the dam has gone home for a few days.

Geo. Candler of Murphy has been visiting his father for a few days

Mrs. P. W. Knicaid went to Clyde to visit one day this week.

Colonel A. S. Davis and family visited the family of Hon. W. E.
Moore one day this week.

Talmage Watkins is visiting home folks for a season, and we are glad to see him with us again.

Clyde Jarrett is teaching in the Qualla high school, and we suppose we might say professor.

Ramsey Buchanan was smiling upon his many friends here this week.

Mr. Law of Waynesville, is appointed engineer for the power dam construction.

Mr. Isaac Brooks is making extensive improvements on his dwelling.

C. M. Dills and wife of Asheville have been visiting his father-in-law.

Several parties who have been sick in the community are now convalescing, and especially we note Mrs. George Pangle and the little son of Kelly Keever.

Sorry to note the death of John Barker about one mile above town, who died with typhoid fever, while the rest of the family had same, but are better now.

THE CRITIC.

Mr. W. S. Gunsalus, a farmer living near Fleming, Pa., says he has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for fourteen years, and that he has found it to be an excellent remedy, and takes pleasure in recommending it. For sale by ALL DEALERS

"I was cured of diarrhoea by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Chole-
to build good highways everywhere.
—Charley and Children.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its functions properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion.
Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you?
For sale by ALL DEALERS.
